

Black Chain
—AT—MAINTAIN REPAIRING
JEWELRY STORE,
KEYMOUTH
REPAIRING
SPECIALTY.
—

Older Watches,
Silver Watches,
Pocket
Watches, Wrist
Watches,
Goggles,
Binoculars,
Lodges,
Caskets,
Pie Boxes,
Cell Books,
Fingerprint
Templates, Rings,
Locks,
Key Chains,
Clocks,
Eyes Glasses,
Glasses,
Silver Frames,
Ear Rings,
Greatest Pearls,
Shawl Pins,
Window
Fridges,

Order, and For Sale.
ENGLISH HALL BOOKS!
 City of Naples!

A. HALL,
Dentist.
 WORK ONLY, AND AT AFFABLE RATES.
ARTIFICIAL TEETH,
 $10, $15, and $20 per set.
 (and lower), $10, $25 & as desired, without covering the natural teeth.
 101 N. 3rd St.,
 PHILADELPHIA.

D MEDAL
TITAR.

WM. B. TILTON is the only firm ever awarded a gold medal, up to and beyond all question, IN THE WORLD!
descriptive price lists of the
D CATALOGUES
2 LYLES OF Orchestral Instruments
ical instrument (except Pianos to be obtained on application, the particular class of instruments are solicited. Address
W. B. TILTON & CO.,
Manufacturers,
BOSTON, MASS.

SALE, of the Capital Stock of the NATIONAL BANK to

WILLIAM RICHARDS.

KING,
& Builder, AVENUE, WEYMOUTH.

For a continuance is solicited.
For the same, all orders will be at-tentioned to. 11 24

HEREBY GIVEN
that I have been duly appointed Sarah Jane Lovell, of the County of Weymouth, late of Weymouth, deceased, testate, and has been given bond and security as demands upon the estate required to exhibit the inventory to said estate is assent to by MUR PHAT, Executor.
21 23

NEW Being Shop. formerly with being Shop in OLD STABLE,
at the Store, where he is presiding, and do right.

BREEDING HORSES A
 SPECIALTY.
 Particuaris solicited.

COLSON,
 on Change Avenue, Boston.
Establishment
 F. GODWIN,
 East Weymouth.
 Large of the public, assuring will be done in first class style

WEYMOUTH
S BANK.

 JOSIAH REED.
 ORAN WHITE.
 A. E. VINING.

 INVESTMENT.
 JACOB LOUD,
 LORING TIBBELL,
 PH DYE.

 M. M. and 3 1-2 to 5 P. M.)

TO LOAN

 $2, ON GOOD SECURITY.

less Board.
G. REED
 (that she has opened the
 own as the WYMOUTH
AL SQUARE,
Weymouth,
 S. A.
BOARDING HOUSE,
 at boarders,
G. REED
 the manufacture of his celebrated urnishing Ink
 RO STAINS.
 of Massachusetts.
 PROMOTE CURE
 text-of-Kim, and all other in the State of MARY (KING), in said County, by directing:
 instrument purporting to be of the said deceased, has been presented for Probate, by Francesca M. King, who prays that be issued to him, for ex-

to appear at a Probate Court, in said County of Norfolk, on the 10th day of September, to show cause, if any he has, why he should not be hastily directed to give publishing this Citation successive weeks, in the Commonwealth Gazette, printed publication to be two days, at least, before the day of September, 1891.

Require, Judge of said County of Norfolk, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

IRAN COBB, Register.

All Around The Hub.

A WOMAN'S INSTITUTION. It seems almost inevitable that a worthy institution of Boston which abounds in a host of them, but among them is one which, acting upon the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, takes care of the young and sets them on the right path to start with. We refer to the "Children's Mission to the Children of the Desolate," of which Mr. Henry B. Kildner, who is always ready, and Mr. Wm. H. Babbie, is vice-president. The annual report recently published shows that the mission has been instrumental in taking some hundreds of children from homes where the influences surrounding them were all bad, and placing them where they would at least have a chance to become respectable men and women; and the efforts of the mission have been their most interesting success. Its finances, as might be expected from the high character of those who have conducted its affairs, are prosperous, but the institution labors under a discouragement from a very singular cause. No sectarianism is known or admitted. Jew or Gentile, Catholic, Baptist, Methodist, Orthodox, Presbyterian, or Unitarian, all fortunate children are welcome to the benefits of the mission, no attempt is made to interfere with the faith of any; sects and theologies are not considered; and yet because some of those not largely interested in the institution happen to be Unitarians, many people professing to belong to other sects refuse to do it or to place children within its benign influence.

A TIO MERE. Immediately after the great fire, when it might naturally have been supposed that everything would be fearful, depressed, real estate went kiting, and such prices were realized that there was not a great while before there was a large reaction. But business increased, people in all branches of trade were making money and real estate revived. We noticed recently that an estate on South street, which was sold since the fire for three dollars per foot was disposed of for twelve dollars per foot. This, however, might be looked upon as an exceptional case, and the price was probably paid in order to control the property in the interest of parties owning adjoining estates. The frequent alterations in the lines of our streets rendered necessary by the increase of population and business, have left in various localities the strips of land which have been held very long above their actual value in the hope of forcing a high price from the owner of the next lot. A noticeable case is that on the corner of Washington and Bromfield streets, where for some years there was a little shanty for the sale of fruit, papers, etc. The owner of the next estate wanted to get on to the corner, but he would not pay an outrageous figure to do so and the consequence is that the corner now being erected on the strip is "scarcely large enough to stand a cat by the tail." We think in such cases the city should take the whole estate at a fair valuation, and thus protect, in a measure, the owner of the estate adjoining from what amounts to an attempt at extortion.

THE DEER PARK. The deer park on Boston common may have been an ornament, and a source of recreation, but it is neither one nor the other now. There is not room enough for the deer to rove about; the building is no improvement to the grounds, and we think the city fathers would show their wisdom by doing away with the city's investment in reason.

TAT'S HOTEL. One of the institutions of the Hub is Tat's at Point Shirley. Delano's in New York has a wide reputation, but that of Tat's is not known here. We remember when the old man Tat kept a place on the Dedham turnpike, and he was so anxious that his patrons should be satisfied, he was so liberal in providing, that he did not accumulate a fortune. He originated what is now known as Young's Hotel, but it was not until George Young gained possession of the premises that the place became a wide reputation. Tat's, at his house at Point Shirley, has entertained some of the leading men of the country, and no party of distinguished individuals can be said to have thoroughly done Boston, without including a dinner at Tat's.

HEARD FROM. Gen. B. F. Butler has been heard from at last; the Boston papers of last Sunday contained his letters of acceptance and the nomination of the Democratic ticket. The letters do not show much fight and if the persevering candidate should be successful, it will be because of indifference on the part of the republicans. There must be more interest taken in the campaign later in the month or general apathy will control the election of governor. The contests in the various congressional districts may bring out a fuller vote than the matter of the governor election would; and we may yet have a lively campaign.

YOUTH AT THE BOSTON. Messrs. Tompkins & Hill have opened the season of 1932-33 by producing the romantic drama of "Youth," in which they have outdone all their previous attempts in the way of dramatic talent and effective scenic display. The interest of the plot is almost painfully thrilling, and no expense has been spared to put it upon the stage. The tally-ho coach, with its pair of superb horses, creates an excitement and in fact we may say that never before in Boston has there been anything in the way of a theatrical display to compare with the presentation of "Youth" at the Boston.

The republican caucus, to choose delegates to attend the joint convention of Norfolk and Plymouth counties, to nominate a candidate for district attorney for the south-eastern district, was held at the Town House Tuesday evening. Col. B. S. Lovell was chosen chairman, and John A. Raymond, secretary. The following delegates were chosen: James Humphrey, F. A. Pratt, J. M. Whitcomb, E. P. Worster, A. J. Richards, B. S. Lovell, George W. White.

LOCAL TOPICS.

Weymouth Historical Society.

The October meeting of this society was held as usual in the Tufts Library rooms, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 10th, past, when Mr. Richards in the chair. The attendance was about as large as usual, and the meeting of much more than average importance for two reasons, the large number of valuable contributions, as will be seen by the accompanying list, and the historical character of the reading secretary. The latter was a contribution to our local history requiring in its preparation much care and labor, and should be of general interest to all of our citizens. It is a sketch of one, who, for more than half a century bore a part in our public affairs second to no other of his townsmen of his day, and who was one of the few Weymouth men whose reputation has extended beyond the town lines.

Major James Humphrey, the subject of the sketch, was born in 1711 and died in 1798; entered public life at the age of 24 years, and continued actively engaged in it until very near the date of his death. He was first chosen constable, then an officer of militia responsibility, afterwards a surveyor, besides selecting, representative and senator, besides serving upon innumerable important committees. He was a prominent and active member of the first church and parish for 65 years, and entrusted with their most important business. He was also a warm supporter of the public educational movements in the parish and town. He was also a wealthy man, and his estate was probably the largest in the town at the date of his death, amounting to about $45,000.

The paper occupied about three quarters of an hour in the reading and was listened to with marked attention and interest. In connection with this sketch the author has in preparation a genealogy of the "Weymouth Humphreys," which is nearly completed.

A vote of thanks for this paper, and also for the several donations was past. The following is a list of the latter:

From Mr. Edward B. Whelan, a fine copy of "Deane's History of Scituate," New Boston, 1891, pp. 408. A very rare and valuable work.

From Mr. Chas. G. Easterbrook, "Kingman's History of North Bridgewater," New Boston, 1890, pp. 696. This also is a desirable acquisition.

From Mr. T. Pratt, "Weymouth Town Report," 1845-6.

From Elias Richards Esq., "Annual Address of Gov. Rice, Jan. 6, 1879," Boston, pp. 72.

From Mr. Reed Blanchard, "A pewter plate, captured from a British ship belonging to Gen. Burgoyne's army, near Saratoga, early in Oct. 1777, by Abner Blanchard of Weymouth, a soldier in the Continental army."

From Mrs. Diantha T. Shaw, Dr. Cotton Tuttle's "Oration on Washington, Feb. 22, 1862."

From Mrs. John Shaw, "Six copies of the 'Hingham Gazette' and 'One of the Boston Statesman'."

From Mrs. Oliver B. Shaw, a discourse by Rev. Jacob Norton, Feb. 5, 1811, to which is added a copy of a signed letter, "God's voice crying to the inhabitants of Weymouth," also his valedictory discourse, July 4, 1824; also a sermon by Rev. Josiah Best, Nov. 28, 1832, on the dedication of the new meeting house, with historical notes attached to a note containing the text of the sermon, dated June 3, 1832; the Independent Chronicle and Boston Patriot July 16, 1825; "Historical sketch of Dedham church"; "The perpetual laws of Massachusetts from 1780 to 1790," bound volume; "Sermons of burnt paper which were blown through the air from the Boston fire, Nov. 12, 1872."

From Mrs. Lewis W. Paine, "Copy of the manual of the American Temperance Society, 1836; also 'report of the same society, 1841'; 'Two journals of the American Educational Society, 1857'; 'Discourse by Rev. Mr. Ward, June 16, 1841'; 'Resolves and Laws of Massachusetts for 1824-5'; 'Report of the committee for investigating the affairs of the Fall River railroad company, 1853'."

From Mr. Thomas Derby, "Dr. Cotton Tuttle's oration on Washington, Feb. 22, 1862"; "Universal Geography by Vinson and H. Mann"; "Weymouth Town Report of 1844, 1846, 1847, 1848"; "Surveyors' list of names 1778 and 1800"; "Low's Almanac 1847"; "Chronicle of 1870," containing an original account of the Boston massacre; "Utter County Gazette," Jan. 1860, containing an account of Washington's funeral services, etc.; "Shipping papers of Capt. Abner Derby."

From Mr. Nicholas Sawyer, "Weymouth Town Reports, 1822, 1828, 1824, 1827"; "From Mrs. Ebenezer Northey, 'Resolves of Massachusetts legislature 1810'; also 'Family record of Simon Ford'."

From Mr. Loring Tirrell, "Deed of real estate from Thomas Drake to Joseph Drake in Weymouth, Sept. 15, 1692."

From Mr. Geo. O. Paine, "Six ancient Weymouth deeds, from 1701 to 1729"; "Warrant for highways, 1788."

From Mrs. Delphina (Derby)-Orcutt, "Nineteen ancient deeds and documents, dating from 1750 to 1812."

N. E. Institute Fair. Miss Charlotte E. Hobart's class in the Union church Sunday last Saturday, and also made a trip to the Congregational Home, to which they collected their charitable contributions have been devoted. Visitors to the Fair will find a great attraction in the Art Gallery in Fickett's latest painting of "The Battle of Lexington," and another painting by Mr. Aubrey Hunt of Weymouth, also adorns the walls. The N. E. Institute Fair, is having great success with its elegant Bell Lounge, numerous orders having been received at the Fair.

The Fair. The Fair has been held at the Landing in this port with another cargo of coal. This is her fourth trip this season.

A baldheaded eagle was shot last Friday on Summer street.

The Lincoln square pump has been repaired by Bates & Son.

The double tombment of M. P. Bryant is to be moved on the spot where his store formerly stood.

Mr. George R. Davis is having his house painted.

A grand ball takes place Friday night at Clapp's Hall, under the auspices of the T. C. S. of Weymouth. Langford's Orchestra furnish music, and a supper will be furnished in the upper hall, also clothing cared for, etc.

The second vessel has arrived at this wharf with lumber for Edna Clapp's new factory at East Weymouth.

A large number of our citizens visited Boston last Wednesday, and witnessed the parade and reception of President Arthur.

Regular meeting of Reynolds Post, G. A. R. next Tuesday evening.

Horse trot at the Fair Grounds tomorrow.

Wedding. Last Tuesday afternoon a large ceremony was held in the Catholic church at the Landing, to witness the nuptial union of Mr. Henry McLaughlin and Miss Kate McCormick. The bride was attired in cream colored silk, her attire being very beautiful. After the ceremony had been concluded, the newly wedded couple departed on a trip to New York.

THE COMET.

Though every one in the town has been talking about the great celestial stranger we had not noticed to the point of getting up at four o'clock to see it until Tuesday morning. We were well repaid for our early rising as we have never before seen such a sight. It strikes us, however, that this comet is, if we may use the expression, upside down, the tail preceding instead of following the star. We advise all our readers to devote one half hour in the early morning to see what most of them will never see again.

The Annual Conference connected with the Of the Sabbath schools, will be held in the First Church, Brattle, (Rev. Thomas Emerson), on Tuesday the 17th inst. The committee have spared no pains to arrange an interesting programme, and have secured the following speakers: Rev. S. B. Baker, of Lowell; Mr. A. D. Dunne, of Boston; Rev. F. A. Warfield, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Roath, who is especially interesting and helpful in the primary work, will be present to illustrate her methods. The meeting will be of an interesting character and a full attendance of teachers and workers is desired.

Col. B. S. Lovell has returned from his western trip, and attended the President's reception at Boston, Wednesday, and the Marshall celebration on Thursday.

As was generally anticipated, Gov. Long was unanimously nominated as candidate for Congressman from the 21st District, by the convention held in Brockton, and the election is certain.

The Webster Centennial. At Marshfield, yesterday was the occasion of a great gathering. A large number of comrades of Webster's Post joined in the escort to the President, a portion uniting with the Abington Post and others with the Hingham Post. The Old Colony Railroad company furnished numerous extra trains, and to guard against all possible accidents, freight trains were discontinued while flagmen were stationed at all the crossings on the line between Marshfield and Brattle. A telegraph and operator were stationed at East Brattle. The occasion was one of great interest.

The Grand Fair. Of Delphi Lodge, Knights of Pythias, to be held in the new lodge room, Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2, and 3, will be a prominent local event and cannot fail of securing a large attendance. A variety of entertainment is being prepared for each evening, and articles of use or fancy will be sold at low prices. The object of the fair is to raise money for the purchase of the hall, and it is hoped the public will extend their aid in generous manner.

Our former townsmen, Mr. Frank W. Humphrey, now of St. Louis, has an original and spicy advertisement of his clothing house in a daily of that city, as follows:

GRAND SWEEP-TAKES! "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," and let the shoemaker stick to his last." You can make a whole lot of a pig's tail, and the peculiar conditions that are necessary to meet in order to successfully design and manufacture and sell fine clothing are of such a nature that less than a dozen houses in the United States have ever achieved any reputation in this direction. No one understands this axiom better than the gentlemen who composed the awarding committee on clothing, who yesterday, after careful and deliberate examination, awarded us every first premium offered by the fair association for the best men's clothing for the best tailoring, for the best use of fabric, for the best display of furnishing goods, and for the finest display of ready made clothing. Visitors, as well as St. Louisians, will please make a note of the fact that duplicates of every article on exhibition in this case the fair can be duplicated from our regular stock. The garments which captured the blue ribbon were not the products of fine custom New York tailors instructed that expense was nothing but something that would take the premiums for anything, but our own work, and we can show you any day in the year at our fine outfitting establishment, northeast corner of Fifth and Pine. Visitors who desire to purchase premium blue ribbon clothing will find us prepared to receive and show them every possible advantage. Grand illumination every evening by electricity.

Open. Mr. Frank A. Spear's fashionable tailoring establishment at the Landing is now open, and his cutter is busy with orders. The new store has been fitted up in fine style, and Mr. Spear's friends and all others in want of neat and serviceable suits are invited to call at the new stand.

Drifts. Through the efforts of Col. B. S. Lovell, the O. C. R. R. Co. made special rates for the Grand Army in the excursion to Marshfield, which was 65 cents while the public paid $1.25.

Miss Edith Cushing, while attending school and by some unexplained way, broke the third finger of her right hand on one of the seats of the school room.

A gent residing in the East part of the town tells us that cod fishing all along the shore is remarkably good. The result of a day's fishing last Wednesday was nearly three hundred pounds of the heaviest weight about thirty pounds, and smallest one about seventeen.

The Home Savings Bank, Boston, has declared its regular semi annual dividend at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Mr. George H. Cunningham has returned from his business trip to the west of nearly two months.

The boot business is very quiet at the Landing.

The schooner T. B. Garland has arrived at this port with another cargo of coal. This is her fourth trip this season.

A baldheaded eagle was shot last Friday on Summer street.

The Lincoln square pump has been repaired by Bates & Son.

The double tombment of M. P. Bryant is to be moved on the spot where his store formerly stood.

Mr. George R. Davis is having his house painted.

A grand ball takes place Friday night at Clapp's Hall, under the auspices of the T. C. S. of Weymouth. Langford's Orchestra furnish music, and a supper will be furnished in the upper hall, also clothing cared for, etc.

The second vessel has arrived at this wharf with lumber for Edna Clapp's new factory at East Weymouth.

A large number of our citizens visited Boston last Wednesday, and witnessed the parade and reception of President Arthur.

Regular meeting of Reynolds Post, G. A. R. next Tuesday evening.

Horse trot at the Fair Grounds tomorrow.

Wedding. Last Tuesday afternoon a large ceremony was held in the Catholic church at the Landing, to witness the nuptial union of Mr. Henry McLaughlin and Miss Kate McCormick. The bride was attired in cream colored silk, her attire being very beautiful. After the ceremony had been concluded, the newly wedded couple departed on a trip to New York.

EAST WEYMOUTH.

The employees at Reed & Hawes factory enjoyed their annual dinner last Saturday noon. The tables were spread in one of the workrooms of the factory, and the feast was partaken of with a gusto indicative of a clear conscience, good digestion, and proverbial good humor. The bill of fare, although not as elaborate as that furnished on state occasions, was none the less palatable, and the beans and puddings, as they quickly disappeared, were as greatly relished as though the menu had been made up of fillet de beef and mushrooms. The occasion was a very happy one, and was greatly enjoyed by all. Messrs. Gardner & Tisdale were the caterers.

A woman whose name we did not learn, and who resided at West Hingham, attempted to jump over the fence of the East Weymouth and West Hingham, East Wednesday evening, but was pulled back into the car by some of the passengers who saw her attempt. We believe she was under the influence of liquor.

Col. B. S. Lovell has returned from his western trip, and attended the President's reception at Boston, Wednesday, and the Marshall celebration on Thursday.

As was generally anticipated, Gov. Long was unanimously nominated as candidate for Congressman from the 21st District, by the convention held in Brockton, and the election is certain.

The Webster Centennial. At Marshfield, yesterday was the occasion of a great gathering. A large number of comrades of Webster's Post joined in the escort to the President, a portion uniting with the Abington Post and others with the Hingham Post. The Old Colony Railroad company furnished numerous extra trains, and to guard against all possible accidents, freight trains were discontinued while flagmen were stationed at all the crossings on the line between Marshfield and Brattle. A telegraph and operator were stationed at East Brattle. The occasion was one of great interest.

The Grand Fair. Of Delphi Lodge, Knights of Pythias, to be held in the new lodge room, Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2, and 3, will be a prominent local event and cannot fail of securing a large attendance. A variety of entertainment is being prepared for each evening, and articles of use or fancy will be sold at low prices. The object of the fair is to raise money for the purchase of the hall, and it is hoped the public will extend their aid in generous manner.

Our former townsmen, Mr. Frank W. Humphrey, now of St. Louis, has an original and spicy advertisement of his clothing house in a daily of that city, as follows:

GRAND SWEEP-TAKES! "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," and let the shoemaker stick to his last." You can make a whole lot of a pig's tail, and the peculiar conditions that are necessary to meet in order to successfully design and manufacture and sell fine clothing are of such a nature that less than a dozen houses in the United States have ever achieved any reputation in this direction. No one understands this axiom better than the gentlemen who composed the awarding committee on clothing, who yesterday, after careful and deliberate examination, awarded us every first premium offered by the fair association for the best men's clothing for the best tailoring, for the best use of fabric, for the best display of furnishing goods, and for the finest display of ready made clothing. Visitors, as well as St. Louisians, will please make a note of the fact that duplicates of every article on exhibition in this case the fair can be duplicated from our regular stock. The garments which captured the blue ribbon were not the products of fine custom New York tailors instructed that expense was nothing but something that would take the premiums for anything, but our own work, and we can show you any day in the year at our fine outfitting establishment, northeast corner of Fifth and Pine. Visitors who desire to purchase premium blue ribbon clothing will find us prepared to receive and show them every possible advantage. Grand illumination every evening by electricity.

Open. Mr. Frank A. Spear's fashionable tailoring establishment at the Landing is now open, and his cutter is busy with orders. The new store has been fitted up in fine style, and Mr. Spear's friends and all others in want of neat and serviceable suits are invited to call at the new stand.

Drifts. Through the efforts of Col. B. S. Lovell, the O. C. R. R. Co. made special rates for the Grand Army in the excursion to Marshfield, which was 65 cents while the public paid $1.25.

Miss Edith Cushing, while attending school and by some unexplained way, broke the third finger of her right hand on one of the seats of the school room.

A gent residing in the East part of the town tells us that cod fishing all along the shore is remarkably good. The result of a day's fishing last Wednesday was nearly three hundred pounds of the heaviest weight about thirty pounds, and smallest one about seventeen.

The Home Savings Bank, Boston, has declared its regular semi annual dividend at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Mr. George H. Cunningham has returned from his business trip to the west of nearly two months.

The boot business is very quiet at the Landing.

The schooner T. B. Garland has arrived at this port with another cargo of coal. This is her fourth trip this season.

A baldheaded eagle was shot last Friday on Summer street.

The Lincoln square pump has been repaired by Bates & Son.

The double tombment of M. P. Bryant is to be moved on the spot where his store formerly stood.

Mr. George R. Davis is having his house painted.

A grand ball takes place Friday night at Clapp's Hall, under the auspices of the T. C. S. of Weymouth. Langford's Orchestra furnish music, and a supper will be furnished in the upper hall, also clothing cared for, etc.

The second vessel has arrived at this wharf with lumber for Edna Clapp's new factory at East Weymouth.

A large number of our citizens visited Boston last Wednesday, and witnessed the parade and reception of President Arthur.

Regular meeting of Reynolds Post, G. A. R. next Tuesday evening.

Horse trot at the Fair Grounds tomorrow.

Wedding. Last Tuesday afternoon a large ceremony was held in the Catholic church at the Landing, to witness the nuptial union of Mr. Henry McLaughlin and Miss Kate McCormick. The bride was attired in cream colored silk, her attire being very beautiful. After the ceremony had been concluded, the newly wedded couple departed on a trip to New York.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH.

The meeting of the Executive Committee of the Improvement Association on last Friday evening was marked by a good attendance and an unusual degree of interest. A committee, consisting of J. G. Hatch, C. W. Peering, and A. E. Vining, was appointed to investigate the matter of street lighting, and to inquire regarding the probable cost of lighting between the post office and the depot. Citizens will be asked to join in this enterprise, by private contributions. The true committee was instructed to have more trees planted this fall through the co-operation of the association and owners of property, where vacant spaces now exist. It is also probable that a good number of trees will be given during the fall and winter, and a committee of three was appointed to confer with Rev. W. H. Bolster, who has in view some excellent and popular illustrated lectures, which can be given with profit to the people and the association. The committee is also instructed to have a sufficient number of benches in the grounds is received. The executive committee was pronounced in opposition to public pool tables and saloons in the village, and, as these exist in direct opposition to the laws of the state, it was considered in the line of improvement that they be removed. A great interest was aroused by the discussions of the evening, and all the members can attest that these meetings with profit.

The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and also refreshments.

Complimentary. A gentleman from East Weymouth, while passing through Old Spain a few days ago, being asked how he liked the looks of the reservoir at the corner of Sea and Bridge streets, replied, "It looks like a great wart on the back of one's hand," which we think aptly expresses the idea of its inconvenient protruberance.

Married. In North Weymouth, Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. T. Sawyer, Edward W. McAlister, Esq. of Brockton, to Cora A. Cleverly of North Weymouth.

Deaths. The W. C. T. U. will give an apron festival in the Pilgrim vestry, next Friday evening, 20th inst. The entertainment will consist of singing, speaking, and declamation. The young ladies of Weymouth are expected to be present to favor the audience with some excellent concert music, and there will be offered for sale a grand display of aprons, and

[illegible]

VOL. XVI. WEYMOUTH, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20. 1882. NO. 23.

jection of Leonard W. Livingood asprant from Florida who the examinations required for West Point, evidently was not back to his prospects in life. If not be a pupil of the military West Point, he has become the Union academy at Gainesville he will find as honorable and in teaching the young colored how to shoot as if he had been martial ambition.

export movement of wheat is that of the corresponding time doubtful if this rate of exports had long, as the foreign markets are rapidly declining, while the Americans have reached so low a figure holding back of grain by our

—1,633,307,000 house. Asia's population is steadily increasing in density; but the revision of estimates where the enumeration has been largely done by guesswork as in the figures formerly supposed for this population. Asia is credited 795,501,000, Europe 327,743,000, and Africa and America with 205,823,000 and 100,415,000 respectively.

two kinds of monopolies—the industrial. An exclusive grant a monopoly, and the other kind is from circumstances that produce a result for a time. The essential difference is illustrated in the case of the Suez Canal. According to the pretensions of De Lesseps, the company holds for nine years the exclusive right of communication between the gulf of Suez and the bay of Suez. The London Convention of 1858, which confirmed the claim, is a very doubtful one. It is not to be so difficultly on the ground of the Convention determining that all such claims of power exist to grant monopoly.

of a workman while handling an might not have happened had he instructions, but the casualty serves to tion to the fact that there is much ing wires for electric light strung treets. The danger to life will be and the danger to property from fire. It is a mistake to permit the another pole for such wires. The placing the wires under ground is great, and prudence requires that expense should be borne. The it is being adopted so generally that cities should lose no time in prohibiting electric wires.

It should be adopted in every state the carrying of concealed weapons on, making no exception of persons, cemen, for, it is remarkable what number of cases have lately been re- people being shot by policemen for trivial causes. It is conceded that in life and property is safer than in any part of the world, and there, policemen are allowed to carry a staff, similar to a policeman's club. In extreme cases of danger, officers are permitted to carry pistols. The sooner this system is adopted in this country the better. The present record is a terrible one of murders and assaults on the part of police no shoot citizens down on the slight-ation, and their bad example is ill over the country.

funeral of "Old Josh" Eddy, the ser, in Philadelphia, one of the mmended his life as an example of ad said its influence should promote mong all the colored people. No etely mistaken idea could have essed. It is such mean, despicable old Josh that set many people against

So solicitous are they lest they erly that they are apt to go to the ome and be extravagant. As a rule, n of misers are either as miserly as ts or recklessly spendthrift. If they erit all the meanness of their parents, likely to be so disgusted with them pend all they get, and when they possession of the fortunes which s hoarded for them, their wealth like snow under a summer's sun.
ddy was a great fool, who lived like o good with his money while he a squabble over the $150,000 began relatives as soon as he was dead. Ends about as much attraction to the economy as a case of small-pox thoroughfare. True economy is the of wastefulness and the application possessions to the worthiest uses.

NOTED ROCK.

the Capon mountains of ire county, W. Va., is a gorge of a granite rock, which possesses an ordinary historical and romantic interest. A narrow road runs on the side of a brawling stream, and on either hand the wooded cliffs rise to a height of several hundred feet. In 1731 a band of Catawba Indians who were engaged in the gap in 1731 were set upon and exterminated. A few years later the Frenchmen and Indians in an ambush on Ensign Daniel "the hero of Stillwater and the war," who was passing through the burning dispatches to Winchester. Soldiers who were with him fell their horses dead, while Morgan, the blood streaming from a terrible wound, clasped his mare about with both arms, and was borne back to a neighboring fort, where lifted from the saddle insensible. The gorge was the scene of a Recently surveyors have located the route of the Baltimore, Cincinnati & Western railroad directly through the pass.

as historic and unguined quarrels victors of Tel-el-Kebir. Even in the hottest part of the year it is cool under the alabaster columns and upon the marble courts and galleries of the great Ali mosque, which is the heart of the fortress.

10

10

11

